DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendments and arguments of April 1, 2005 has been fully and carefully considered and are found to be persuasive. Accordingly the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 over Bush is withdrawn. A new ground of rejection follows:

2. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is unclear what applicant is trying to claim in claim 8. Claim 8 depends from claim

1. By performing the process steps as set forth in Claim 1, a heating fluid should be produced.

In claim 8, it is unclear what applicant is claiming and further claim 8 doesn't further limit claim 1.

3. Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim.

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claim 1,3-6 and 8-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Viteri et al. USP 6,170,264.

Viteri et al. teach feeding a flow comprising hydrocarbons and a gas flow comprising oxygen to a combustor, wherein the streams are compressed; burning the hydrocarbons in presence of the oxygen in the combustor thereby obtaining a high temperature fluid comprising carbon dioxide and oxygen. Viteri et al. specifically teach the step of feeding a flow comprising water to the high temperature fluid and/or to the combustor. From figure 18, hydrocarbon fuel and oxygen is added to the gas generator to provide a heating fluid. A water stream is added to the gas generator, which fully anticipates applicant's claims as presently drafted.[Note also Column 7, lines 34 et seq.]

6. Claims 2 and 7 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
